

Coal And Steel Tieup Biggest Job In History For U. S. Conciliator

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11. (AP)—The government's conciliation service has taken on the biggest job in its history—trying to settle the twin steel and coal strikes.

Before the week is out U. S. Conciliation Director Cyrus Ching, will meet separately with leaders of the striking CIO United Steelworkers and industry leaders.

At the same time, the conciliation director will watch developments in the coal strike. It was Ching who got John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, and coal industry operators to agree to go back to the bargaining table tomorrow.

Neither the steel industry nor Philip Murray, president of the steel workers, had any comment after Ching announced yesterday the government was stepping into the steel walkout for the fourth time. Before the strike started 11 days ago the government made three futile peace efforts.

The government will be working against time in its effort to get the steel strike settled. Contracts of a half-million steelworkers in fabricating plants—where steel is the basic product for hundreds of articles—began expiring Saturday. They'll continue to run out through mid-December.

And Murray says the union will call a strike in each case where the fabricators won't provide free pensions and insurance.

A total of 10 small firms has agreed to pay workers a 10-cent pension and insurance package without employee contributions.

That is the exact recommendation of the presidential fact finding board which tried unsuccessfully to head off the walkout.

The latest firms to give in to Murray are Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company, near Pittsburgh, and the Massey-Harris company at Buffalo, N. Y. The latter is a steel fabricating firm with 2,000 employees. Kelsey-Hayes has 650 workers.

Many companies not only are worrying about the lack of steel, but are beginning to look at their coal reserves. In a few instances, reduced working schedules are in effect.

Double-barreled negotiating sessions are scheduled in West Virginia tomorrow in an effort to halt the UMW walkout.

Southern operators will meet with union representatives at Charleston, W. Va., and Lewis will sit down with northern and western operators at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Soviets Launch New Reich Rule

German Government Hand-Picked By Reds

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Berlin, Oct. 11. (AP)—Wilhelm Pieck, aging No. 1 Communist in Germany, was selected today to be the first president of the new Soviet zone republic erected by the Communists with Russians blessing.

Pieck's selection was pre-ordained by the Communists, who had made it known in advance the 73-year-old Moscow-trained wheel horse would get the job.

The Russians announced last night they were replacing military rule in eastern Germany with a civilian control commission and a Russian high commissioner. The United States, Britain and France took that step in western Germany last month.

Russia's supreme representative in Germany, Marshal Vasil I. Chulikov, in a statement last night announcing the end of military rule said also "all administrative functions" exercised by the Russians would be transferred to the new east German government.

The war of words over the rival east and west German republics continued. In Frankfurt last night the western high commissioners in a statement called the new Soviet zone republic an "artificial creation devoid of any legal basis."

"This so-called government," their statement said, "has no title to represent eastern Germany."

Chulikov in his statement rapped back at the Bonn government in the west. Western Germany, he declared, "is governed by the inspirators of the Hitler regime who do not even conceal their hatred against neighboring countries and their lust for revenge. Their aspirations are supported by foreign powers who have degraded western Germany to willing tools of their aggressive plans."

Government Buying Top Grade Michigan Apples, $1.70 A Bushel

Lansing, Oct. 11. (AP)—Federal purchasing of part of Michigan's bumper apple crop at $1.70 a bushel was under way today, Governor Williams reported.

He added that the best market price so far reported this year was $1.10 a bushel.

The apples are being purchased "in substantial quantities" by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration. They are then disposed of through the school lunch program and will be bought into next spring as fast as the program can absorb them.

The apples purchased must be U. S. grade No. 1 or better, inspected by the federal-state inspection service. Jonathon, Grimes, Golden, Cortland, Delicious, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Northern Spy and famous varieties will be bought.

Railroad Men May Go After Pension Boost

Retirement Act Goes Back To 1937

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, Oct. 11. (AP)—Possible expansion of the federal government's Social Security system may mean new agitation by approximately 1,800,000 railroad workers to boost their old age pension, too.

The railroaders have had a more liberal—though costlier—program since August 29, 1937, when Congress enacted a special railroad retirement act. They have been talking lately about bettering it.

The demand is not immediate, however, like the jousting of Philip Murray, John L. Lewis, and Walter Reuther for new or bigger pensions from the steel, coal and auto industries.

The House, by a vote of 333-14, decided last week to bring another 11,000,000 workers under the federal system and to hike the payments for an elderly couple from around $85 to $126 a month. All benefits would be upped 70 or 80 per cent, according to House estimates. The Senate is expected to act on the measure after next January.

Gets $144 a Month

Under the railroad act, the worker who has earned $300 a month for 30 years can retire at age 65 with $144 a month. That's tops for a single person. If he is married and has dependents, the amount would be even greater. The old age pensions from the railroad fund actually are averaging about $84 a month.

That compares with approximately $26 a month on the average for those retiring under the federal system. (The proposed new act would increase the average to about $45.)

CHALLENGES AIR FORCE —

Capt. Fred M. Trappnell, commanding officer of the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent River, Md., testifying before the House Armed Services Committee in Washington, challenged the Air Force to a B-36 interception test. The officer said such a test would result in a cancellation of the big bomber procurement program.

French Cabinet Leader Picked

Socialist Leader May Be New Premier

Paris, Oct. 11. (AP)—Jules Moch, a Socialist party leader, was asked by President Vincent Auriol today to form a new French government.

If he succeeds, Moch will become premier to succeed Henri Queuille, who resigned six days ago in an economic dispute that split his 13-month-old coalition cabinet.

Moch served as minister of interior in the Queuille cabinet. He had been negotiating with leaders of other political parties for several days seeking agreement on a Socialist proposal for limited wage increases to offset effects of devaluation of the franc.

President Auriol offered Moch the premiership despite the fact that the Socialist minister is far from certain of winning enough support from other party groups to obtain a majority in the French National Assembly.

Moch proposes to increase wages of the lowest paid workers to 15,000 francs (about $45) a month. Present minimum wages are between 12,000 and 13,000 francs a month.

Premier Henri Queuille was forced to resign last week because he opposed Socialist demands that wage raises be permitted to offset rising prices resulting from devaluation of the franc.

General Vaughan Admits That He's Red Tape Snipper

Washington, Oct. 11. (AP)—Take it from Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan: He's a snipper of government "red tape" with disdain for those who call him "unethical."

"I'm considered in many circles to be very unethical," President Truman's army aide confided to a friendly audience, "and I'm sure I will continue to be."

"There are only two people I have to please—Mr. Truman and Mrs. Vaughan. As long as I please them, I am satisfied."

"I've made various suggestions as to what other people can do. You can interpolate your own interpretation of that."

The occasion was a $2-a-plate party given in Vaughan's honor yesterday by members of various veterans organizations. They gathered to show appreciation for the various chores Vaughan has handled as President Truman's coordinator of veteran affairs.

Storm Thins Apples

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 11. (AP)—The big wind that blew across western Michigan early today may have done farmers some good after all.

Fruit growers in the Benton Harbor area reported the storm "thinned" the bumper apple crop considerably by blowing a great deal of fruit off the trees. As a result, they said, it may boost the abnormally low market price of apples.

Laborites Win Out In Norway

Anti-Communists Gain Seats In Storting

By AKE FEN

Oslo, Oct. 11. (AP)—Norway's anti-Communist Labor government today appeared well on the way to swelling its one-vote majority in the Storting (Parliament) as a result of yesterday's election.

With many votes still uncounted, preliminary surveys indicated at least five new seats would be won by Prime Minister Einar Gerhardsen's ruling Labor party. It was the Laborites who steered Norway into the North Atlantic pact and the Marshall plan.

Those gains, which would give labor a safe parliamentary majority, appeared coming chiefly at the expense of the Communists. The Reds appeared destined for a drastic cut in the parliamentary group of 11 seats they held for the last four years.

A preliminary survey of 550 counties supplying two-thirds of the Storting's 150 members indicated the Labor party, in these districts, would win 52 seats, as compared with 49 in 1945.

In the same area, the Communists seemed likely to get only two victories where they won five in 1945. And 47 seats, compared to 46 won in 1945, seemed slated to go to Norway's four other parties, the Conservatives, Liberals, Agrarians and Christian Democrats.

Scattered returns from other areas showed gains in strength for the Labor party which political observers predicted would mean an additional government seats when final returns are in.

Nehru Of India Is Truman Guest

Washington, Oct. 11. (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru flew to Washington today for a goodwill visit.

President Truman, who sent his plane "The Independence" to London to bring Nehru here, prepared a short formal welcome for his arrival (expected at 4:30 p. m. EST).

Nehru will be a guest at Blair House with Mr. and Mrs. Truman during his stay in Washington. He will fly to New York Saturday and later will visit other points in the U. S. and Canada. His entire visit will last almost a month.

Ship Goes To Rescue 11 Britons Marooned 2 Years In Antarctic

Southampton, Eng., Oct. 11. (AP)—The 1,200-ton steamer John Biscoe sails for the Antarctic today in a bid to rescue eleven British scientists marooned for two years on an icebound island.

The little ship failed repeatedly in rescue attempts last year. This time it has been fitted with a steel bow to slash through ice, and with two ski-equipped airplanes to try an air rescue if the ship fails to get through.

The marooned men, most of them geologists and meteorologists, are on Stonington Island in Marguerite Bay, Britain's most southerly base in the Antarctic. Their latest radioed reports said all were well but life was hard in their frozen camps.

Liquor Commission Has Public Hearing In Escanaba Monday

Lansing, Oct. 11. (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission will hold one of its two public hearings, required by law, at Escanaba next Monday.

The hearings are required to hear complaints and receive views of the public regarding the administration of liquor laws.

The meeting will be at 8 p. m. in the city hall council chambers.

Sky Endurance Champions Land

Yuma Fliers Stay Up For 1,124 Hours

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 11. (AP)—The new world's champion endurance fliers, Woody Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse, are resting at their homes today.

The wartime navy pilots brought their four-place plane, "The City of Yuma," to a landing at the Yuma County Airport yesterday afternoon at 3:33 p. m. (MST) after 1,124 hours and 18 minutes of continuous flying.

Since Aug. 24 when they took off from the smaller Marsh aviation field on the other side of town, they had flown 85,000 miles, the equivalent of three times around the world.

During their flight they used 9,000 gallons of gasoline and 200 quarts of oil.

Decision to terminate the flight—most of which was spent over Yuma to show the world this city's fine flying weather—came Sunday night when one of their two magnetos burned out.

On hand to greet the new champions when they taxied to a stop on the runway at the Yuma county airport were their wives, parents, and the holders of the old record of 1,008 hours. The former record holders, Dick Riedel and Bill Barris of Fullerton, Calif., landed in their record plane, "Sunkist Lady" about half an hour before Jongeward brought "The City of Yuma" to a perfect landing.

The larger of Yuma's two airports was used for the landing because of the greater ease in handling the crowds of spectators. Sheriff's deputies estimated the crowd at 15,000.

Michigan College Of Medicine Gets $3,000,000 Grant

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11. (AP)—A $3,000,000 grant to the University of Michigan College of Medicine will enable the school to increase its enrollment and accept more students from other states, University officials said today.

The money was granted by the Kresge foundation, established by dime store magnate S. S. Kresge, and will be used for a new research building.

Medical School Dean Albert C. Furstenberg and the new structure would replace scattered and obsolete research facilities and permit the college to expand its present program.

The school currently has approximately 500 undergraduates in medical courses.

University President Alexander G. Ruthven hailed the gift as "the most important single grant in the 100-year life of the medical school" and "among the most significant in university history."

Chinese Reds Linked To Filipino Rebellion

Manila, Oct. 11. (AP)—Police today disclosed documents purporting to link Chinese Communists in the Philippines with the Red-led Hukbalahap peasant rebellion.

The documents, police said were found in a raid yesterday on the home of Ching Ong-Se, a Chinese businessman, Ching was arrested.

Police said papers indicated Ching was finance officer of the Chinese Communist party. One document, they said, ordered him to discuss ways of cooperating with the Huk guerrillas in a "general assembly" on or before the Philippine presidential election Nov. 8.

New Proposal To Ban Bombs Promised UN

Big 5 Peace Scheme Up For Debate

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Soviet Union promised to outline a new plan for atomic warfare control before the United Nations today. Western diplomats, familiar with Russian tactics, were skeptical of the move.

Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob Malik brought the Russian plan from Moscow last week. He will deliver a statement before the U. N. security council.

At his news conference last week, President Truman expressed doubt that the Russians would offer anything new at this time. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky already has a proposal for outlawing the atom bomb before the United Nations. However his proposal is tied in with a big five peace proposal which will be debated this week.

Chinese Communist armies closed in toward Canton today while the Nationalists hastened their departure for Chungking, their new provisional capital. Reliable reports said Red troops had passed Yingtak, 75 miles north of Canton. No Nationalist opposition was reported.

Puppet State Formed

The Soviet Union formally recognizes today its own creation—the new east "German democratic republic" government. In a statement issued in Berlin last night, Russia announced the end of military rule and said "all administrative functions" exercised by the Russians would be transferred to the new Communist-controlled east German government.

In Frankfurt the American, British and French high commissioners of west Germany said in a joint statement that "this so-called government has no title to represent eastern Germany."

Norway's Labor government appeared to be returning to power with an increased majority in yesterday's elections.

Three right wing newspapers in Britain today predicted the Labor government would call an election in November. The government has not yet announced its decision. Its term of office does not expire until next summer but it can call an election at any time.

Two Grocery Stores Looted

Food, Money Taken At Both Places

Two Escanaba grocery stores, N. T. Stephenson Co., 301 Ludington street, and the Red Owl Store, So. 10th street, were robbed of merchandise and money during the night Monday or early Tuesday.

The loot at the Stephenson store included the following: six large round glasses of cheese, three dozen half-pound packages of cheese, two dozen small glasses of cheese, a large summer sausage, 18 inches in length; frankfurters, large and small bologna and other cold meats, two dozen cans of prepared meat, a shelf of cakes and cookies valued at $50, and $4.09 in pennies, nickels and dimes.

Entrance to the Stephenson store was made through a basement window but the thief or thieves left the building through the rear door.

The burglar took $32.94 from the cash register behind the lunch counter at the Red Owl Store and $2.00 from one of the check out registers. Candy and cigarettes also were stolen.

Entrance to the Red Owl Store was made by breaking a window panel near the front door.

Soo Judge Decides He Can't Hold Court In His Shore Cottage

Lansing, Oct. 11 (AP)—Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels of Sault Ste. Marie has given up his theory that he can hold court in his summer home, it was indicated in state supreme court records today.

The supreme court remanded the case of James McGowan an inmate of the Marquette branch prison, to the Chippewa county circuit court for a new trial.

McGowan had appealed for a reversal of his sentence on the grounds that on Oct. 19, 1940, he was taken to Judge Runnels' summer home at Bay Mills, nine miles west of Sault Ste. Marie, and sentenced for statutory rape. The court record said that the judge had officially designated his summer residence as a branch court house.

Prosecutor James A. Henderson of Chippewa county notified the supreme court that since McGowan's appeal had been filed "the circuit judge and this deponent have had an opportunity to study the law as it applies to this case x x x. After canvassing the situation the circuit court has advised this deponent that if this case is remanded to the circuit court an order will be entered granting the defendant a new trial."

Gale Lashes Delta Area; Hornstein Yacht Beached

Gale winds from the south that attained an estimated 55 miles per hour yesterday lashed the Delta county area, spreading damage and beaching a sail yacht at Garden Bay.

The storm was general through the central and western Upper Peninsula.

The velocity of the wind was officially reported at 33 miles an hour for a five minute period shortly after 4 p. m. yesterday, and a few minutes later reached a peak velocity of 41 miles an hour. Henry Hathaway, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist at Escanaba, said he estimated the velocity of the wind at the Escanaba yacht basin at 55 miles an hour.

The storm caught some commercial fishermen and at least one yachtmen out on the Bays de Noc.

Walter Hornstein's "Marb" of Garden was forced ashore by the wind only a short time after he had set out for Escanaba, where the boat was to be hauled out for the winter.

Third Polio In Escanaba

Boy, 13, Reported Under Treatment

The third recent polio case in Escanaba, a boy 13, was reported today by the Delta county health department.

Gerald LaFrenier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LaFrenier of 226 North 18th street, is now at St. Luke's hospital in Marquette, where he was taken for treatment.

Dr. William C. Harrison, health director, said the boy first complained of a headache on Thursday, Sept. 6, and this became severe on Sunday. He was taken to Marquette on the same day and his illness was diagnosed as polio. So far no paralysis has appeared in his case.

The LaFrenier case brings the total polio cases in Delta county so far this year to seven, of which four have been in the city of Escanaba.

Of the three recent city cases, there was one fatality, a boy 13, the first polio death in the county this year. The other recent case, a 10-year-old Escanaba girl, is reported recovering.

Sister Smuggles Saw Blades To Prisoner, Lands In Owosso Jail

Owosso, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP)—Grace Hawkins, 23, was held today in the jail from which she tried to help other prisoners escape. She was charged with attempting to aid in a jailbreak yesterday after Sheriff Charles Downer found five hacksaw blades in the cell of Claude Smith, held on a burglary count.

Miss Hawkins, Sheriff Downer said, admitted having passed the blades to Smith during a visit to her brother, Bert Hawkins, held on a bad check charge.

Several bars in Smith's cell were found partially sawed in two, the sheriff said.

Czech Army Officers Jailed In Communist Purge Of Underground

Prague, Oct. 11 (AP)—More Czech army officers have been jailed in the Communist purge that also has hit Catholic priests and businessmen, reliable informants said today.

An unimpeachable source said that two officers in Moravia had been sentenced to life imprisonment for high treason. Five co-defendants were given shorter terms. Other sources said many officers had been arrested as "political unreliable" at Olomouc, also in Moravia.

The roundup of thousands of small business and professional persons was reported diminishing, though it still continued. Other reliable sources said 40 more Roman Catholic priests and nuns had been arrested, joining more than 300 church leaders in jail because they oppose government plans to take over control of the nation's churches on Nov. 1.

Two Cars Stolen Here Monday Night

Two automobiles were stolen in Escanaba Monday night but one of them, a 1942 coupe owned by William Murphy, was found abandoned this morning in an alley between N. 15th and N. 16th streets in the 300 block.

The Murphy car was stolen at nine o'clock from a parking space in front of the Murphy residence, 1129 N. 18th street.

The other stolen car, still missing, is a 1940 black four-door LaSalle, owned by Jim Bink, 308 N. 15th street. The car was taken from the rear of the Sherman hotel.

Railroad Men May Ask Pension Hike

There are many reasons for the wide difference between the federal and the railroad benefits.

Principally, it is because the railroad system blanketed in all the prior service of employees before August 29, 1937. Without contributing any money toward those extra benefits, the railroad gets credit for the years he spent in the service of any rail carrier before that date.

The federal system, which now covers about 35,000,000 employees outside the railroads and other excluded occupations, began with the Social Security Act of August 14, 1935. Old age pension credit began January, 1936.

Tax Runs Higher
Just as the benefits are higher, the payroll tax is higher on the railroads. Instead of the 1 per cent payroll tax paid by workers and employers to the federal old age insurance system, the railroad worker pays 6 per cent of the first $300 a month of his salary or wage. The railroad employer pays an equal amount.

Besides the old age payments, the railroad system provides income in case of disability. The House-approved legislation would incorporate some of those features in the federal system.

Under the rail plan, the worker may retire at 65 with full benefits. Or he may continue to work, if he wants, but he must pass physical tests depending on the type of work he does. If he wants to retire at 60 he may do that, but at reduced pension.

The principal advocates of the railroad system say it is different from the federal plan also in that it is "actuarially sound." They mean that as the worker's interest in the fund increases, the credit with which to pay his pension also increases.

Some critics say the government merely places an I.O.U. in the railroad retirement trust fund, and uses the money as it needs it. In a way, that's correct, the experts say, but the I.O.U.'s the government leaves in the till are special-issue U. S. treasury bonds, paying 3 per cent interest.

A good question is: Why have two funds? Why not merge the railroad fund into the general federal system?

First, the railroad pension system is the outgrowth of employer-financed plans, some of which date back over almost a century.

Second, when the railroad system was adopted, there were thousands of workers almost immediately eligible for pensions, without any contribution to the fund. The percentage of those with long service prior to the start of federal Social Security still is high. They would lose all that credit toward a bigger pension if they were swallowed up in the federal system.

The fire season in U. S. forests normally extends from June through mid-September.

Minstrel Show On Nov. 7 And 8

Kiwanians Sponsor Annual Program

Sale of tickets for the second annual Kiwanis Minstrel, which will be held at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium Nov. 7 and 8, got under way today with a heavy early demand reported.

Kryn Bloom is general chairman of the minstrel show, and Harry J. Gruber is heading the ticket committee.

Last year, the Kiwanis Minstrel played before two capacity houses. Net profit totaled $1350, which was used for the purchase of equipment for special rooms at the junior high school and various Kiwanis youth welfare projects.

Rehearsals will begin in the near future.

Red Cross Annual Board Meeting Wednesday Night

Supervisors Recommend $84,100 Stop-Gap Help For Roads And Welfare

Delta county's welfare and road programs will continue on a hand-to-mouth financing plan recommended yesterday by the board of supervisors, with help to come from sales tax diversion funds returned to the cities and townships in the county.

The final plan was the result of compromise and followed lengthy discussion yesterday afternoon.

The work of the board was not completed last night and it will reconvene at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Unanimously adopted yesterday afternoon was a motion by C. W. Stoll, chairman of the board's finance committee, recommending that:

1—The cities of Escanaba and Gladstone, from sales tax diversion money, appropriate $2 per capita, or a total of $39,600 for emergency welfare aid.

2—The villages and townships, from sales tax diversion money, appropriate 80 cents per capita for welfare for a total of $11,390; and $2.40 per capita, or a total of $34,168 for the county road commission.

This would bring a total of $84,100 in supplemental aid, of which $51,000 would go to the welfare department and $34,168 to the road department. Of this total the cities would contribute $39,600 and the townships and the village of Garden $45,000.

Only A Recommendation

All of the supervisors voted for the motion with the understanding that it is a recommendation only and will require action by the city councils and the township boards.

The whole plan is dependent upon 100 per cent participation by all of the units. If one unit does not participate the others will withdraw.

All units have until Nov. 1 to notify the county clerk of the action taken on the board's recommendation.

If the plan works out the welfare department, with $50,000 from the county, will be able to pay off its $18,000 deficit of this year and meet its budget of $82,430 for the coming year.

The road commission, with the supplemental aid, and the promise that it may again "borrow" from the county in anticipation of revenues to be received next spring, will be able to continue operating through the winter months.

Harry Greene, Garden, chairman of the road commission, and William J. Karas, road commission superintendent - engineer, were emphatic in their opinion that some county - wide program of adequate financing for roads must be forthcoming to meet the demands for service by the people.

They urged a program extending over a period of at least three

Probation Office Ouster Proposed In Menominee Co.

Menominee county board of supervisors yesterday directed the finance and sheriff and constable bills committees to take under consideration a proposal to abolish the office of county probation officer, friend of the court and attendance officer. The office is held by Alex Bouty of Powers years, preferably longer, in which the county road system could be brought up to standard.

May Submit to People

It is expected that at today's meeting of the board of supervisors there will be proposals presented to submit to the people the question of a special road millage tax, such as now exists in several Upper Peninsula counties, including Alger, Menominee, Marquette and others.

Scheduled for today's board meeting is consideration of the county budget, estimated at $190,496.50; the hearing of reports by several committees, including the labor relations committee.

This committee met yesterday afternoon with union employees of the court house and sheriff's department, and with John F. Frederick, commissioner, Michigan labor relations board. Employees are seeking higher salaries and a discussion of working conditions.

and the county appropriates about $3,600 a year for its upkeep, including travel expense for Bouty.

The move was proposed by Sup. Charles Cory of Spalding township, who stated that Menominee county was the only U. P. county supporting the office on a full-time basis. Cory suggested the office be abolished and the duties transferred to the prosecuting attorney's office, which would get $40 to $50 a month additional for the extra work.

Cory reviewed practices in other U. P. counties, citing that in Ontonagon and Alger the prosecutor does the work at no extra county cost. In Dickinson county $60 a month is allowed for the office. Houghton appropriated $600 a year for the same work. In Gogebic county, he said, the prosecutor is friend of the court at $50 a month and Keweenaw and Baraga join Houghton in supporting a friend of the court, costing each $12.50 a month.

Science Of Forestry Offers New Hope

THE development of white pine seedlings that are resistant to the blister rust fungus that has ravaged northern pine plantations has been announced by plant pathologists of the University of Wisconsin. The announcement is cheering news to this area, as well as to the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota, all of which at one time produced great quantities of white pine timber.

The states and the federal government have spent huge sums of money endeavoring to protect white pine from blister rust infestations. The protective treatment requires the removal of currant and gooseberry bushes surrounding the pine areas as these bushes serve as feeders for the blister rust fungus. Because of the blister rust spread, very little new plantings of white pine have been promoted in the northern states.

The development of white pine seedlings that have proved to be immune to blister rust means that the lake states can in time once again rebuild the white pine forests and preserve for posterity a species of timber that is regarded as one of the most valuable in the world.

Another discovery announced by the Wisconsin scientists is the development of a species of poplar that grows almost as rapidly as Jack's bean stalk. Disease resistant poplar, also referred to as aspen, has been developed that will reach a height of 15 feet in two years and better than 30 feet in three years. Since poplar is rapidly becoming a much desired species for use in the pulpwood industry, the importance of this new strain is readily apparent.

The science of forestry is indeed giving new hope for the rebuilding of the lakes states timber and woods industries.

Revision Is Certain Social Security

A new social security law is in the making and although it is unlikely that it will be enacted this year, liberalization of the social security program is regarded as a certainty in 1950. The house has already passed a new social security bill, with only 14 dissenting votes. The party platforms of both the Democrats and the Republicans call for extension of old age benefits to more workers and increased grants.

The senate, facing an extremely busy program and an adjournment deadline, probably won't get around to acting upon social security legislation this year. It will occupy an early place on the senate agenda next year, however, and since 1950 is an election year, there is not much doubt that the senate will go along with the house on a program for liberalizing the social security act.

The present limits on old age benefits, of course, are outdated. The inflationary cycle of the postwar years has left the monthly old age benefits far inadequate to do the job that the program was conceived to do when the social security act was enacted.

There is one feature of the social security legislation that bears considerable watching. That is the principle of equal participation by employees and employers. The present law contains this principle and the bill passed by the house retains this feature. With organized labor engaged in a vigorous campaign to force industry to pay the entire burden of private pension-insurance benefits, it would not be surprising if pressures were exerted on the lawmakers in 1950 to revise the social security law by placing a heavier share of the social security financing upon the employers. If such pressures actually develop, vigorous opposition will be presented by industry and business. The present attitude of congress is that equal contributions by employees and employers should be retained in any new law that is written. It is unlikely that this attitude will be changed by the lawmakers in 1950, even in an election year, despite the pressures and demands that will probably come from the labor forces.

'No Down Payment' Is Something New

UNCLE SAM'S Regulation W, governing credit terms, has been rescinded, and 'no down payment—take yours to pay,' is now blazoned in eye-catching credit terms by retailers, especially in the big towns.

A survey by an eastern paper shows varying reactions to the new idea. Some merchants say their business has taken a marked upswing since the payment bars were taken down. Others say there has been only a moderate pick-up in sales. Relaxed installment terms have made no particular change with many dealers.

One big store announces a surprising increase in business. "We are convinced that there are a lot of good credit risks who can't seem to save up $25. or $30 for a down payment. But when they have payments to meet, they are met on time," said the manager.

Refrigerators, television and radio sets take the lead in selling on no-cash-down terms. They account for about 50 per cent of the new trade volume. A Boston store offered a 7.2 cubic foot standard refrigerator at $199.95, no money down, and 25 cents a day to operate via an attached coin box, the daily deposits to be accredited toward the purchase price. Five hundred people jammed the store the first day of the sale. It became necessary to close the doors and put out the window lights to keep the crowds away. August refrigerator business ran 400 per cent ahead of the same month last year.

"The surprising thing," said a Cleveland dealer, "is that the plan brings people into the store when no other type of advertising will work." One firm in the Chicago area sold 3,000 refrigerators via the meter plan.

A chap walked into the store the other day and ordered a no-payment-down refrigerator sent to his girl's house as a surprise "gift." "What the heck," he said, "she'll never miss a quarter a day." The generous gentleman was finally prevailed upon to pay a few dollars down, and it is hoped that the girl will pay the rest.

A San Francisco store cut the price of washing machines 10 per cent and threw in a year's supply of soap free; terms, nothing down, 25 cents a day. The plan moved them out at the rate of ten or twelve a day. It is expected that furniture will soon join the list of goods sold in the larger cities under a no-cash-now policy.

Tunnel May Link Europe With America

THE Straits of Mackinac aren't the only neck of water that may be bridged or tunneled in the next few years. Spanish and foreign newspapers are seriously discussing the possibility of linking Africa and Europe by a tunnel under the Straits of Gibraltar.

The straits are only eight miles wide at their narrowest point. Engineers who have studied the project for years think the building of such a tunnel is feasible.

The Morocco Express operates by rail from Paris to Madrid and on to Gibraltar. Spanish train ferries link up the peninsula with Casablanca, Spanish Morocco, with the African railway system, but the straits must be crossed by steamer.

Military experts consider North Africa and Spain as key spots in the defense of Europe. An underground railway through Madrid, with a surface loop around the capital city for freight trains, was begun in 1933. It forms an important link in the chain of transportation reforms necessary if Europe and Africa are to be joined.

The estimated cost of the straits tunnel today is 50 million dollars. It would be nineteen miles long, and it would go under the straits at their narrowest point, where the Moors landed in 711 for their occupation of Spain. The African exit would be close to the town of Tangier. Two tunnels for electric trains are proposed, with a third tunnel between, for servicing and ventilating machinery. It is possible that the tunnels could be used for motor traffic as well. Spain has hundreds of miles of railways in northern Africa, extending well out toward the Sahara Desert. Eventually, it is believed, great sections of the desert can be reclaimed through the sinking of artesian wells.

SEASONAL NOTES (Christian Science Monitor)

Out in front of the farmhouse porch some vacationists are packing suitcases, golf bags, fishing rods, cameras, and sports coats into the car trunk and trying to leave room for a basket of apples and a basket of grapes as well.

A stoutish lady, hands anchored to suitcases on either side while she waits for the village taxi, stands helplessly, while the bound leans on her expansive front and licks her squirming countenance.

Over by the pump a chap perspires over a tub of water in which he is immersing a punctured inner tube, trying to find the leak.

A city ingenue blubbers as the family horse leans over the farmyard fence to take her caresses. Significantly near sits Just-twenty, his back to the base of the smaller apple tree, where the hammock hangs, and a carved heart with initials more or less rampant thereon blazons a summer idyll.

Junior and his twin are pushing a buggy into the barn, probably for a long, cold season's rest. A colt kicks up his heels as they pass, and swallows propel themselves from the farmhouse chimney to see the fun.

Grandpa, in full whiskers and big straw hat, loops his arms over the fence and gazes idly past the scythe he has hung on a short-cropped bough of the big apple tree.

What does it all mean? Well, a cartoonist drew the scene which we have simply described here as faithfully as our mere words can. He then let the Country Gentlemen print his pen-and-ink tapestry, and put this caption on it: "Summer Is Over."

If prices keep up, some of the butchers who used to weigh their thumb will be thumbing their way.

Pronunciations To Watch

Accolade originally meant an embrace followed by the touch of a sword blade in conferring knighthood. The word is French, from the Italian accolata, from the Latin accolare, "to embrace."

The customary extended meaning today is, "an honor or award." Accolade is pronounced: AK-uh-LAYD; or AK' uh-LAYD.

Most dictionaries are divided between KAR-uh-MI and KAR-uh-mell, the first syllable "a" as in carrot, for the word caramel.

Reds Sabotage Aid to France

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN

Washington. (NEA)—Congress has received several reports this summer on the effectiveness and size of the Communist propaganda effort in France and how it is sabotaging American aid efforts there.

It poses the problem of whether to make American propaganda efforts in France as rough and tumble and expensive as those of the Commies, or whether to continue the present dignified and scrupulously honest efforts to sell the French on the virtues of democracy. There are many specific examples of just how the French Reds have operated. When a minor dispute between the U. S. and England over aluminum purchases with ECA funds, developed, the Communist propagandists put out the following line:

"Behold capitalism and capitalists. Behold the titans of industry with no honor, ethics, or honesty, even when one (American) is allegedly bailing out another in order to preserve the solidarity of international capitalism. Even here these ruthless, instinctively competitive capitalists try to cheat each other. No, my friends, only in the Communist faith is there true brotherhood, true selflessness, true identity of interests between countries."

The day after the French government announced a proposal to improve the tax program, the Red press said:

"The Marshall Plan Gauleiters yesterday cracked the whip and the government quislings went through their paces. Our 'leaders' have surrendered the sovereignty of France to the carpetbaggers from Wall Street."

ON EAST-WEST TRADE

This is the typical Communist press line on the subject of East-West trade:

"American expansionists have found a new trick to prevent trade between East and West. The 'Marshallized' countries are forbidden to send goods to Eastern Europe on the flimsy ground that it might increase the military potential of the Soviet Union. This policy has dealt a severe blow to France, which has thus lost its historic eastern European markets."

When ECA announced its quarterly total of authorizations to France the Communists printed:

"America's vaunted sacrifice for European recovery is less than the cost of its cigar bill."

Ineffective as these words appear to the average American, congress has been told that the average Frenchman—even the non-Communist—is impressed with them.

A parliamentary deputy who is also the leader of an important non-Communist party makes this frank statement in a report:

"A mass of people, certainly 60 per cent, has heard about the Marshall Plan and has a scrambled, vague knowledge that it involves American gifts which must be viewed with great suspicion."

ACCUSE U. S. OF SELFISHNESS

"If there is one categorical statement to be made on this subject it is that not one Frenchman in 500 believes that there is any element of good faith involved in this thing. They sure that America is motivated only by its own economic needs."

"Another point: Despite the admirable effort of ECA to explain the objectives—the basic ideas of the Marshall Plan—the Frenchman's awareness of it stems from Red publicity. Volumewise it is all one-sided. Incidentally, I do not believe that there are 20 deputies among my colleagues in the Chamber who have a knowledge of the principal provisions of the Marshall Plan. From the standpoint of its success this may be a good thing."

"It is reported that 'the Communist party in France is running one of the greatest publishing operations ever performed by a political force in any country at any time. In Paris the party controls six publishing houses and in addition publishes 40 newspapers and reviews there."

It is reported that "there is not a single department of France without a Communist newspaper." And where the community can't support a daily, a weekly is put out.

In addition, one of the most influential types of press propaganda used by the Communies are the trade newspapers. The line is put out in the language of a miner, for instance, or a maritime worker, U. S. efforts have been noticeably shy in matching this device.

It is very unlikely that KAR-uh-mell (Merriam Webster's only choice) is heard with enough frequency to justify a dictionary listing. The third-syllable "mell" to rhyme with bell would surely be a stop-light.

The customary pronunciation among people who give caramel three syllables is KAR-uh-m'l. But even this pronunciation does not prevail in the country as whole.

The pronunciation KAHR-m'l is customary in the speech of many Americans of good education; indeed, a survey might show that KAHR-m'l is the predominant pronunciation in the United States. At any rate, it is so widespread that it must be admitted as a permissible alternative.

If your dictionary wears a long white beard, it will instruct you to pronounce harem as "HAY-rem," the second syllable rhyming with hem, gem.

Of course you will not want to use such a fossilized pronunciation as "HAY-rem." Pronounce the word as you always have: HEHR-um, to rhyme with harum-scarum.

In the Southern states the word lack is commonly pronounced "like." That is to say, the word like is used instead of lack in both speech and writing, as, "He liked several votes of having a majority." Correct: He lacked. . .

Lack of course, should rhyme with back; like should rhyme with pike.

Most dictionaries sound the "i" in polka, as POLE-kuh. But the "i" is rarely heard in Standard American speech. The silent "i" is natural in polka and polka dot, as it is in al l such words as folk, Polk, Norfolk, walk, talk, etc.

Recommended pronunciation: Poe-kuh.

But Maybe the Other Boys Don't Like to Fish

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE OLDER GIRLS—For reasons known only to the moving picture people it is unusual, or so they think, to have a grandmother working in the cinema.

Gloria Swanson, who announces her age as fifty and says she is the first screen star to admit to motherhood and grandmotherhood and some other ladies of the screen and stage are suddenly interested in having the public know that some one calls them Grandma.

What impresses us as peculiar in this very normal business of marriage and motherhood, and consequent grandmotherhood, is that Susie Gluth, who works in an office, is also a grandmother but without fanfare. Susie never is interviewed or gets her picture in the papers.

She is just another grandmother.

TRoubles—All of the movie grandmothers have so much trouble!

When they are interviewed they tell the reporters that they—the movie grandm—looks so young it is impossible to appear before the camera looking like anything but a young, young woman. In some cases they look so young it is necessary for them to have make-up wrinkles, white hair and fallen arches added so they will be able to play the part of a grandmother.

To prove that they look much younger than they are, a picture of the movie grand-ma always appears with the story. This reveals the lady to be carefully corseted, crimped and costumed. She doesn't look a day over 50.

ROCKING CHAIR—The American Association of Grandmothers, Inc., should resent this encroachment upon an ancient and honorable position in life. No grandmother with any sensibilities and a feeling of grandmotherly importance could help but feel that her position is endangered by these women who look more like "glamor" than "grammer."

Grandmother has always been a word synonymous with spectacles, wrinkles, rocking chairs and deep dish apple pie. But here comes the Hollywood version with a penchant for hair dye, lifted faces, night clubs and cocktails. It is the boast of one movie grandmother that she is never seen twice with the same escort—all a couple decades younger than herself. There may be another side to that story, but we'll skip it.

Dear old grandmother and all her kind before her are being given a raw deal. The honors once bestowed because she was sweet, kindly, and helpful, now go to the gals who boast that they never did have a rocking chair—but they did have four husbands.

ONE MORE STEP—There is something to be said for Hollywood's sudden interest in grandmother. It may mean the beginning of a transition, in movies, away from the artificial and toward a little more honest realism.

For you cannot place a grandmother in a film and still expect her to look as youthful as sixteen, no matter what the publicity men say and the movie grandmothers believe.

There is the remote possibility, of course, of a more mature performance. More likely, how-

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—A representative of the United States Navy recruiting service from Green Bay will be at the local postoffice today for the purpose of recruiting men for the service.

Gladstone—Mrs. John S. Petit returned from Peshtigo, Wis., following a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Mike Rennes. Mrs. Rennes accompanied her on her return and will visit here for a week.

Manistiquie—Dr. and Mrs. James Fyvie have returned from Ann Arbor where Dr. Fyvie has been doing post graduate work at University hospital.

Munising—Miss Dorothea Shaffstall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shaffstall, was graduated from Butterworth hospital school of nursing in Grand Rapids last weekend. Miss Shaffstall attended the Mather high school and completed three years of training.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Seventy-five persons of the Fair Store attended the annual employees banquet at Peterson's Tea Room last evening celebrating the forty-first anniversary of the founding of the local department store.

Gladstone—Miss Malvina Minne of Detroit is spending a two week vacation in Gladstone visiting with relatives and friends.

Manistiquie—Playing sensational golf, J. C. Quick trounced H. J. Gustafson 14 and 13, Wednesday afternoon to win the club championship of the Indian Lake Country club and replace Stanley Crowe as king of the local Horton Smiths.

Enforcement of law and order is never a matter of local concern. It deals with the very fabric of government and is the concern of all the people.

—Gov. Frank Lausche, Ohio.

Despite the fact that Hollywood is covered by more than 400 reporters, no one really knows what the town is like.

—Adolphe Menjou.

ever, she will be asked to play the part of a much younger woman. Her years and her experience may be discounted. It is how she looks that seems important. Her aging face, however, will show more character than that of the ingenu and realism of a sort will result.

IF THEY WOULD—The grandmothers of America might very well insist that they should be represented on the screen as they are—not as Hollywood thinks they are.

Most grandmothers have a keen interest in their families, although they are less intimately concerned with them than in the past. One reason for this is that grandmothers have won some measure of independence and refuse to be a combination handy-woman and baby sitter.

The modern grandmother has interests outside of her home. She reads and discusses subjects other than cookies and her grandchildren. Many attend lectures or adult education classes, dabble in painting or take music appreciation courses.

This grandmother who so seldom is depicted in the movies is a quietly happy creature who likes a rocking chair but is never anchored there. She does not try to look like a woman of twenty, but she is beautiful in the liveliness of her expression, mirroring her interest in life.

No, grandmother is not aging movie glamor gal, but the ones we know are far more pleasant and helpful to have around.

Abuse Of G. I. Bill

Dear Editor:

Three cheers for Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, in yesterday's Press, who sees eye to eye with me, on the abuses of the G. I. education benefits.

He doesn't refer only to GI's in large colleges, that strikes our own very fine Business college and "on the job" training. How many of these GI's who are registered to attend classes five hours a day, actually do not arrive till an hour or more after schedule? Who is to check their arrival and departure?

Do these GI's realize they are stealing government money and school time? This bill is promoting laziness to the nth degree in many cases. Some of these GI's eagerly look for the government check each month but will never look for a job. They will just go in and help dad in his factory, office or store whether they complete their training or not.

Mrs. I. S. Q.

So They Say

In troubled times like these a draft law is absolutely essential for quick mobilization and the nation's safety.—Lt.-Gen. Edward H. Brooks, Army's director of personnel and administration.

We are not here to blame anybody but we are not going to let anybody blame us.—Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, in the U. S. for dollar conferences.

Personally I would agree to an amendment (to the arms bill) of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 contingent upon putting it entirely in the hands of the President and with no mention of military aid (to Nationalist China).—Sen. Tom Conally (D), Texas, on aid to non-Communist China.

I think this rising generation has prospects before it that are really unequalled in the history of the world. And what we want to do is to impress upon them their responsibilities.—President Truman.

The essential problem is how to maintain the greatest area of mutual trading in the world and how to prevent the creation of a barrier between the leading democratic nations.—Clement Attlee, British Prime Minister.

In the ultimate, television may well come to be the most powerful of all forces in terms of its effect upon public opinion, our social, political and economic philosophy, public enlightenment, entertainment and the cultural pattern as a whole.—James Lawrence Fly, former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Fair play demands that vicious name calling by fans in the direction of players be not indulged in. Ball players have a right to protection from unwarranted abuse.—Baseball Commission A. B. Chandler, lifting suspension of Leo Durocher.

A United Europe can only come about by giving up some sovereignty.—George Bidault, French minister of foreign affairs.

From what I have seen, the only country in the world safe from communism is Russia.—Actor Clifton Webb.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—It's been a long time since the U. S. navy hung the son of the U. S. secretary of war, John C. Spencer, "at the yard-arm of the brig Somers for insubordination and attempted mutiny," but there's always been a certain amount of insubordination in the navy of unlike that flaring in the headlines today.

There was the case when the admirals, through their mouthpiece, the Navy League, called their Commander-in-Chief Herbert Hoover "abysmally ignorant." There was the case when the admirals, led by Hilary P. Jones, sabotaged Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson on 8-inch-gun cruisers. And there was the bitter attack on Stimson's war record, carried on sub rosa by the admirals.

There was also the leak of a secret naval document regarding dirigible bases by Adm. Joseph M. Reeves, not unlike the leak by Capt. Crommelin today. And there was the shameless way in which certain naval advisers to the Coolidge naval conference in 1927 conspired with William Baldwin Shearer, lobbyist for American steel manufacturers and shipbuilders, to defeat the policies of their commander-in-chief, Mr. Coolidge.

Looking back over the last three decades, the navy has battled much more vigorously against its Republican commanders-in-chief than against the Democrats. This is partly because, under Franklin D. Roosevelt, a former assistant naval secretary, there was almost nothing the navy wanted that it could not get.

Even regarding uniforms, FDR bowed to the admirals. Because of the scarcity of textiles during the war, his secretary of the navy, the late Frank Knox, had banned a new blue-gray summer uniform. Whereupon, Fleet Commander Admiral Ernie King walked into the White House and reversed Knox in five minutes.

One reason the admirals are so irate today, of course, is that their inside drag with the White House is no more. Not only was Harry Truman an artillery captain during World War I, but his very close friend, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, is interested in the army, not the navy.

THE ADMIRALS STILL LEAK

Reading a book written 17 years ago, I came across this paragraph:

"Leaks are among the admirals' most effective means of propagandizing. When a White House decision has gone against them, when the state department is carrying on a negotiation which the admirals oppose, when they fail to get their full appropriation, then the safest and best strategy is to leak."

They do this to the press or to a discreet member of congress. Both channels are effective. A furor is stirred up. The president or the state department is pictured as stripping the country of its defense and baring its bosom to the enemy—and after all the furor has subsided, the admirals usually find themselves on top."

That statement, written by this columnist in 1932 in the book "More Merry-Go-Round," is equally true today. It is true regarding the Captain Crommelin leaks; and it is true regarding the leaks to Congressman Van Zandt, the naval reserve officer who so grossly libeled Secretary of Air Symington under the safety of congressional immunity.

ADMIRALS' DAY IN COURT

The public has largely forgotten it, but twice the navy has been given complete and lengthy hearings by congress, and each time congress ruled against the navy. Following which the admirals refused to accept the congressional decision.

In 1946-47 congress held protracted hearings regarding unification of the armed forces. The navy was vigorously opposed. One of the admirals testifying against unification at that time was Adm. Gerald F. Bogan, who, apparently forgetting his own testimony, wrote a letter, recently leaked to the press, in which he complained that the navy never had a hearing.

However, after months of hearings and after listening to anyone who wanted to testify, congress voted for unification. In a civilian form of government, it is the congress, not the navy, which is supposed to have the final word.

Again last winter further hearings were held on unification. Again congress listened patiently to the admirals, but again congress voted against them, tightened unification.

CAVALRY AND BATTLESHIPS

Admirals Bogan, Radford and Denfeld now complain that morale in the Global Gobbledygook Too Much For Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York.—I am as sorry as sorry as can be that the World Series is over, because now I got to go back to thinking about that heavy stuff again, and I never did have the head for it.

I know people, people just like you and me, who can sit down and rattle off reams about the pound devaluation and sterling bloc areas and parity in farm truck, just as easy as pie. I know a whole kennel of experts on the atom, and a covey of economists and more experts on military matters, communism and whither the globe than you can shake a stick at.

For a time I had a fast try at duplicating this omniscience, and never quite got away with it. I read Time and Newsweek and the New York Times and a million dull books about everything from aphids to zebras, and still felt real dumb and awful phony when I laid down the heavy law on the machine.

That's a funny thing, how the typewriter reacts to an operator who is pulling an act. When I am writing something I know about first hand, like merchant ships and stripteasers and baseball and the night life of Sydney, Australia, the mill clicks along as sweet as a cash register. When I go global on the stuff I know at arm's length, the keys stick, the ribbons twist, and it all comes out ETAO-INSHRDLU the next day.

Baseball Easy to Write
Baseball was a business I always thought I knew, and respected as an exact science, and it was always awful easy to write. Baseball made a lot of sense. They rarely changed the rules on you, for one thing. The experts couldn't ever expert it very hard, for the simple reason that no expert, sitting on a bench, could expert a wild pitcher into chipping the corners of the plate, or expert a .215 hitter into belting one out of the park.

At the opposite corner I never felt easy writing football. Football seemed as loose as psychiatry. They changed the rules to fit the situations. It was hard to see what was happening on the field, even on a clear day. Football coaches are chronic liars, as a group; football press agents are worse; referees and the other officials operate by inspiration.

Any member of my firm who has ever seen an expense account submitted by me will know why I cannot profundify on the pound devaluation. As a man who never satisfactorily vanquished a blown fuse or a gummed-up carburetor, I cry quits on the atom. In three years and more of navy, I never once approached comprehension of navigation.

This used to fret me, quite a lot, until I met some economists who couldn't add a column of figures or make a living outside the government or a college. I met marital experts who couldn't manage their own problems in the dove-cote, and all shapes of professional advisors who couldn't hit their hat size in practice.

Welcome Non-Complex
So now we are back with baseball. This past series, I do believe, was met more enthusiastically by more non-habitual baseball fans than ever before, and for the very good reason that baseball is simple and uncomplicated and reassuring in its basic components. We are a nation of people who confuse easy, and who puzzle easy, and who welcome the non-complex.

You cannot fog up DiMaggio with allegations of communist infiltration or capitalist tool-ism or confuse Jackie Robinson's batting ability with an ideology. Robinson is a Negro and any ball he hits out of the park sails as far and counts the same as if it were hit by a member of the first white family of Charleston, S. C. Three strikes is out and on four balls you take a walk.

The drama of a series is clear and easy on the brain. DiMaggio plays a bum series, because he is a sick man, still. Then he hits what should be a triple, and is robbed by Duke Snider. Then he hits a line-drive single, and is robbed by the same Snider. So then he hits one into the seats, next trip, and who can argue that one in a congressional committee? I believe I know why we all so eagerly embraced his series. In a world of woolly and frantic confusion, a series is so easy to understand; so satisfyingly free of the irritants of global double-talk and the uncertainties of remaining alive.

The employees of Neisner Bros. store in Escanaba have voted unanimously for no union in an election conducted by the National Labor Relations board.

The request for the union election was made by the AFL International Clerks union which sought recognition the exclusive bargaining agent for the employees.

Veteran union leaders reported that it was the first time in their memory that a union petitioning for an election had failed to get a single vote in a NLRB election.

The union recently won an election as the bargaining agent for employees of Montgomery Ward store in Escanaba and organizers of the union are currently active in attempting to organize employees of the Delta Hardware company here.

This Week Rough On Hatless Boys

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle Who Is Traveling)
New York, (P)—This is a rough week for us men who don't wear hats.

By Saturday, if we make it that long, we'll probably feel un-American.

You see, the people who make and sell hats sold only about 72,000,000 hats last year for about $250,000,000 and this year they would like to make and sell more.

So-o-o-o-o—

This is national hat week. An intensive campaign to eliminate the hatless man is being waged in some 500 cities by more than 9,000 hat retailers and 135 manufacturers. The industry calls this the greatest promotional campaign in its history.

There are or will be more ads in the papers and more commercials on the air about men's hats than ever before. On television, they're sending fashion shows and one clinical program which takes a hat apart and shows how it's made.

Fashion shows with live models are planned by department stores in Chicago, Washington, Richmond and many other cities. On the air, there is talk about the "importance of hats in the history of freedom" (i. e., when Greek slaves became free they wore a felt hat as the symbol of their freedom).

Topper For Truman

The mayor of Philadelphia, the "Hat City of the East," is reported sending a super-deluxe model to President Truman, Danbury, Conn., the "Hat Capital of the Country," has special plans, too, in Albany, N. Y., a man-on-the-street broadcaster is giving away hats for correct answers about hats. In Philadelphia and New Britain, Conn., pretty models and beauty queens will circulate in the streets awarding free hat certificates to the "best hatless men."

And in New York, up and down 20 blocks of Fifth avenue, the stores are showing hats worn by various great men in the past 200 years.

In one window, you can see an orange straw top hat worn by the Marquis de Lafayette when he made his triumphal tour of the United States in 1825. A few doors down there are Daniel Webster's straw hat, Bill Cody's ten-gallon, Will Rogers' polo helmet, Daniel Frohman's derby and high silk toppers worn by Jimmy Walker and John Barrymore.

The Hat Research Foundation, sponsors of the project, tried to get the historic campaign Fedora worn by Franklin D. Roosevelt but the government won't let it out of Hyde Park.

Said one leading hat manufacturer: "Expect to cover a lot of heads that haven't been covered in years."

It's going to be a rough week. Pupils of blue eyes contract more in bright light than do the pupils of dark eyes.

C&NW Hearing On Wednesday

Will Be Held At Iron Mountain

Escanaba will be represented at the hearing of the C&NW railway's petition to abandon the scooter service between Iron River and Escanaba, which will be held at the Iron Mountain city hall at 8:30 CST, tomorrow morning.

Attending from Escanaba will be City Attorney Denis McGinn, Claude Tobin Jr., representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Peter N. Logan, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Engineers; Ralph Finley, Order of Railway Conductors; and Charles N. Chaisson, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The brotherhoods also will be represented by the following legislative chairmen from Lansing: C. A. Stanislaw, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and C. N. Woodbury, of the B. L. F. & E.

The hearing was started in Escanaba on Aug. 30 and a postponement was taken for 60 days.

The C&NW scooter makes connections with the Peninsula "400" streamliner at Powers.

Obituary

ROBERT CHRISTENSEN

Private funeral services for Robert Christensen, 13, son of Albert C. Christensen, 921 Lake Shore Drive, who died of polio at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, were held at 2 this afternoon at the Anderson funeral home chapel, with burial in Gardens of Rest cemetery. Rev. Otto H. Steen, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated at the rites, and Bob's classmates in Sunday school, although unable to be present, served in the capacity of honorary pallbearers. They were Don LaVelle, Arni Dunathan, Charles Cloutier, Joe Schuster, Carl Bennett, Jr., and Ben Brower.

C. EMIL BERQUIST

Final rites for Carl Emil Berquist, retired cement contractor, who died Sunday, will be held at 2 Wednesday at the Anderson funeral home and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Rev. L. R. Lund will conduct the rites.

JOHN HULIN

Urges Teaching Safety To Child

Commission Offers Tips To Parents

"Teach your child safety as you would good manners."

This was the plea today of Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer, who heads the September traffic safety drive. In cooperation with the state safety commission the Escanaba police department has taken as its theme "this month 'Child Safety'."

"Up to a certain age," Chief Ettenhofer said, "the child really knows very little about what is expected of him in traffic. But, by school age, if he is still ignorant of safety rules, the parents are criminally negligent in his training."

He points out that about 3,800 children under the age of 14 are killed annually in traffic accidents. This means that out of every three children killed in accidents each year, one is a traffic victim. "For his own sake the child must be taught safety, but even then the motorist must also realize phasis on the production of lower priced models by all car makers who already have such units in their current lines.

The auto builders have to assume this trend will continue next year. Some will meet it by introducing new models designed for lower price tags.

Many of the car builders will deny they plan early introduction of lower priced models. But there are few who haven't carried on extensive research on what could be produced for as little as $1,000 up to around $200 below the price of their present low-medium price models.

Bark River

Health Clinic

Bark River—A health clinic will be held at the Sunnyside school in Bark River-Harris at 9:30 Thursday morning.

Parents of children of kindergarten or pre-school age are reminded to be there promptly at 9:30 with their children for immunization. Children of other primary grades will be immunized at that time also against small pox, diphtheria and whooping cough.

Bark River PTA

Bark River PTA will meet at 8:15 Thursday night at the school. Prospective members are invited to attend. The state conservation department will present a special program.

FROM BED TO BED

Celle, Germany—(AP)—A man Bredenbestel near here bet $15 that he could eat 100 boiled potatoes at one time. He lost. His stomach was emptied at a hospital and he swore he would never eat boiled potatoes again.

"What form! He chops 'em almost as fast as the Soo Line hauls 'em!"

The cry of "Timber!" still rings through the forests of the Upper Midwest. And since the last great Mississippi River logdrive of 1918, hauling these logs has been primarily a railroader's job. Nowadays most of this timber is used in paper making—and is sped to the pulp mills on fast Soo Line freights. There it's processed into products you use everyday—wrapping paper, high quality bond, and ton after ton of newspaper. Perhaps this very paper! Another way fast Soo Line Service makes your life a better life.

Delta Bridge League
The second weekly session of the current season held at the Elks Club Saturday evening October 8 was run as a twin-Howell pair movement. An unusually large number of complex and interesting hands made the competition most interesting.

Attendance was only fair and indicated that there is still room for many additional guests. Hence the invitation to all newcomers to come out and enjoy three sessions as guests of the club will be continued all season.

The local club announces preliminary arrangements for the fourteenth annual Upper Michigan open pair tournament set for November 5 and 6 at the Elks. This tournament sanctioned by the A.C.B.L. as a master point club championship event for one year possession of the Escanaba Daily Press traveling trophy will also bring the winners smaller trophies for permanent possession. Participation open to all comers, usually draws players from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan points north of Milwaukee and is the only tournament north of Green Bay carrying such American Contract Bridge League endorsement.

The local club expects to be well represented at the Green Bay tournament sponsored by the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Bridge association Oct. 29 and 30 but regular weekly sessions here will continue without break. Next session at the Elks is set for 8 p. m. Friday October 14.

Lengthy SessionEmployee Layoffs
Provoke Debate

Recent layoffs of twelve city employees, authorized by the council and put into effect by the city manager, were the cause of a lengthy discussion by the members of the council at their regular meeting Monday evening.

The reduction of the number of employees was not a part of the discussion, but the matter of who should have been laid off was decided a matter at issue. The council members at variance were not taking up the cudgels for any particular city employee, but they did not see eye to eye on the question as to whether seniority or ability should be given first consideration. The issue was based on the wording of the contract between the city and the city employees union and that phase of it was left for further discussion and consideration.

It was decided that employees belonging to the city employees union could bring the matter of their layoff before the grievance committee of the union and those who were not members of the union could appear before the city council.

To do away with further complications on this score, it was agreed that the seniority, education and skill of each city employee be rated and this rating be posted at the city hall, the water tower and the city shops.

Garbage Disposal Puzzles
Garbage collection again came up for considerable discussion, but resulted in no definite action. The suggestion was made that garbage—discarded food matter—be kept separate from refuse such as ashes, bottles, tin cans and rubbish, that the city collect the garbage from residential districts, but make a charge for garbage collected from business places. The disposal of refuse, it was suggested, be taken care of by the people themselves.

Serious objection to this suggestion was made, the contention being that if the city did not attend to the hauling of refuse, it would invite a widespread practice of promiscuous refuse dumping. The council acted upon the suggestion that the city manager and the city attorney investigate systems of garbage and refuse disposal in other Upper Michigan cities.

The council authorized an all expense trip for city fire chief Elmer Boal to Grand Rapids to attend Governor Mennen Williams fire prevention conference there on October 20.

The council authorized an all expense trip for city fire chief Elmer Boal to Grand Rapids to attend Governor Mennen Williams fire prevention conference there on October 20.

A report of the county relief department showed that $1,018 had been paid out in direct relief in the city in the past month.

The council voted that a contract between the state highway department and the city, governing maintenance of highways that are a part of the city's street system, be signed.

The contract calls for the maintenance and snow clearance of the streets that are a part of Highway U. S. 2 and M-94, the city to be reimbursed for the maintenance work. The contract is to be in effect for nine months of the year.

Radio Operator
Rote SpeakerCalls For More
Community Service

A plea for a broader understanding of the things that go into community service was voiced by William Henricks, resident manager of the WMAN radio station at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Manistique Rotary club.

When one phase of community life is benefited, he said, that benefit is spread out in countless ways and as many directions. He cited the community hospital as an example. Though the hospital is a non-profit organization, benefits accruing, he pointed out, will reach not only employees at the hospital and those who supply it with milk, groceries and other commodities, but everyone in the community. He pleaded particularly for better support of the tourist industry—an industry that brings big returns to many citizens besides the resorters.

In conclusion he called upon businessmen and leading citizens of the community to seek election to places on the city council.

Freak Weather
Winds Up With Heavy Wind Storm

Freakish weather that ranged from dense fog, succeeded by cloudless skies, culminated in a wind storm of unusual severity.

The wind storm, accompanied by a heavy fall of rain struck this vicinity about five o'clock in the afternoon. Many trees were blown over in the area between here and Nahma, some ever partially blocking the traffic on Highway U. S. 2. The steel smokestack at the Manistique & Lake Superior Railway shop, which is about forty feet long and is being held partially in place by its guy wires.

No other damage of a severe nature is reported in the city.

County Board
For EconomyAppropriation For Spout Show Denied

Mounting relief needs, accompanied by threats that the load is due to rise shortly, was the incentive for the bulk of the discussions of the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors at the outset of the October session which began here Monday morning.

Because the funds allocated for relief needs were already overdrawn $5,000 in welfare funds were voted to be drawn on next year's relief funds, the amount to carry over until the next meeting of the board which will be a special one to be held in November.

The report of the tax allocation commission was adopted. To the usual amount allocated every year an additional 5.5 mills was authorized for the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital in agreement with the bond issue voted two years ago.

That the board is economy minded at this time is shown by the action of that body in turning down a request for an appropriation of $100 for this year's potato show. Members explained that they regarded the potato show as decidedly worth while, but felt inclined to act in the interests of economy at this time. Those voting for the appropriation were Agner Dehlin, Ovid Swisher and William Popour. The others voted in the negative.

It was revealed that at the present time, the brunt of the county's relief load is being borne by funds supplied by the City of Manistique and townships of the county.

Bound Over To Coming Term Of
Circuit Court

Charles Wilkes, of the northern part of Hiawatha township, was bound over to the coming term of Schoolcraft county circuit after being arraigned Saturday before Judge W. G. Stephens on a charge of breaking and entering in daytime with intent to commit larceny. He is charged specifically with breaking into and entering a residence of Bruce Stewart of Hiawatha township.

After he had pleaded not guilty to the charge, he was placed under bonds of $500 and being unable to provide that amount was given over to the custody of the sheriff.

Enjoy CampSpend Weekend At
H. J. Nortons

Sixteen girls of Troop 1 of Girl Scouts enjoyed a camping trip at the Breakers, summer home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Norton on the Ford River Road last weekend.

The troop did considerable planning, followed a nature trail and played nature games. Excellent meals marked the outing. Highlight of the trip was a most impressive Scouts Own on the beach of Green Bay in the moonlight.

As a troop the girls decided to try to earn their own Senior Scout uniforms. At present they are conducting a cookie sale and on Nov. 4 in the high school gym they will have a semi-formal dance. Pat Hanson is chairman.

Theresa Harris and Pat Lesser are new additions to the troop.

Evelyn Belongie

October Bride Of
Marvin W. Arnold

Miss Evelyn M. Belongie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Belongie, Route One, Gladstone and Marvin W. Arnold, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Derusha, Route One, Escanaba, spoke their vows at a nine o'clock nuptial mass on Saturday October 8 at All Saints' Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette celebrant of the mass.

Miss Melanie DeHooghe organist played the traditional wedding marches and at the Offertory, Miss Nancy Sabourin sang Del Riego's, "Ave Maria."

The bride's gown of white satin trimmed with lace was styled with a snug fitting bodice, long sleeves which came to points at the wrist and the full skirt fell into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a crown studded with pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses mixed with baby mums and asters.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Agnes and Vivian, who were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. The maid of honors gown of light green taffeta and the bridesmaid's gown of light yellow were fashioned alike, with cap sleeves, snug bodices and full skirts. They wore matching gloves and half hats and carried colonial style bouquets.

The bride's mother was attired in navy blue crepe with matching accessories and the groom's aunt wore a navy blue two piece dress with corresponding accessories. Their corsages were of pink carnations and baby mums.

A wedding dinner for members of the bridal party was held at the home of the groom's uncle and aunt. A three tiered wedding cake topped by the traditional bride and groom centered the table. In the evening a reception and dance was held at the Unity hall in Escanaba, for relatives and friends.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the newlyweds will reside in Escanaba where the groom is employed.

Out of town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ballaback and Miss Carol Lubenur, Cedarburg, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watt, Menominee, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Watt, Bark River, Mich.

Irish 1st, Army 2nd As U-M Slips To 7th In Grid Rank

New York, Oct. 11 (P)—No one section of the country dominates the college football picture today. The second Associated Press nationwide poll of the season shows the Midwest, led by Notre Dame, and the South each with three places among the top 10 teams. The Far West had two, while the East and Southwest each had one.

Notre Dame, second in the first poll last week, moved to the fore but Army, thanks to its 21-7 conquest of Michigan on Saturday, made the most spectacular jump—from seventh to second and right on the Irish's heels.

Michigan was spilled from first to seventh. The sports writers and sportscasters, who gave the Wolverines 34 first place votes last week, awarded them none this time. However, Michigan got enough other ballots to remain in the upper 10.

A total of 172 writers and broadcasters voted this week, compared to 80 during the baseball crush.

Notre Dame, victorious over Purdue Saturday, 35-12, this week received 67 first place votes for 1,489 points. Army, with 58 firsts and 1,459, got within 30 points of the lead. The Cadets represent the only eastern threat for top honors.

The Southwest is represented in third position by Oklahoma. There were no changes in the latest voting for third, fourth, fifth and sixth place, with Oklahoma being followed by Tulane, Minnesota and North Carolina.

Back of no longer invincible Michigan in eighth place is Kentucky, whose 25-0 rout of Georgia Saturday boosted them from 15th. California, 10th, behind Southern Methodist last week, moved past that idle team, the two swapping positions.

With the exception of Michigan, all of the top 10 teams are unbeaten and untied.

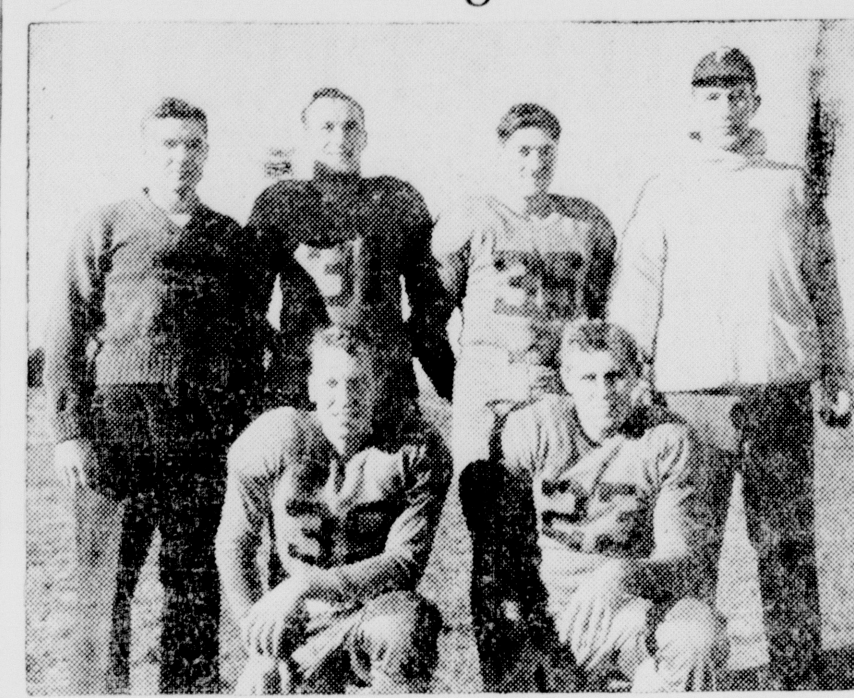

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (67) .... 1489
2. Army (58) ..... 1459
3. Oklahoma (28) ..... 1205
4. Tulane (1) ..... 1052
5. Minnesota (6) ..... 900
6. North Carolina (3) ... 594
7. Michigan ..... 476
8. Kentucky (8) ..... 436
9. California ..... 358
10. So. Methodist (1) ... 341

The second ten—11. Ohio State, 206; 12. Southern California, 181; 13. U. C. L. A., 125; 14. Cornell, 98; 15. Pittsburgh, 65; 16. Texas, 63; 17. Villanova, 43; 18. Navy, 36; 19. Michigan State, 30; and 20. Baylor, 25.

Others receiving one or more votes—Louisiana State, 10; Pennsylvania, 9; Missouri, 8; Vanderbilt, 6; Rice, 4; Tennessee, 3; Georgia Tech, Virginia, and Dartmouth, 2 each; Yale and Duke, 1 each.

Karas' U. P. Charges

Pro Hockey Moves Into Another Major City—Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Oct. 22 (P)—Professional hockey, steadily widening its scope of operations, moves into another major American city tonight—and also into a new $3,000,000 arena.

Cincinnati, long a National League baseball hotbed, will be taking on a brand new sport tonight when a yet unnamed team meets the Indianapolis Capitals in one of the openers in the American League hockey season.

Two other games are on the program for opening night in the 10-team league. St. Louis, defending Western Division champion, will be host to Pittsburgh and Springfield will start its campaign at Hershey.

Just what name the new Cincinnati team will operate under won't be known for another week or two until a newspaper contest to select a name has been completed.

The new arena is the $3,000,000 Cincinnati Garden, located about seven miles from the downtown district and with a seating capacity of around 11,000 for hockey. It was completed late last winter. The team will be a farm club for the Montreal Canadiens of the National League and will be coached by Francis Clancy, a former player and National League referee.

The American League this year will present a slightly revised makeup. Cincinnati is the new member, of course, and Philadelphia and Washington have dropped out. The changes will throw Cincinnati, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Pittsburgh into the Western Division.

Buffalo has been moved to the Eastern Division to join Springfield, Providence, New Haven and Hershey.

Who's Going To Spell Off Glick?

East Lansing, Oct. 11 (P)—Michigan State College coaches are looking around for another quarterback to spell veteran Gene Glick this week.

With sophomore Bob Ciolek sidelined by the same kind of a knee injury that kept Glick from fulltime duty earlier in the season, the most likely prospects are Allen Jones, another sophomore, and George Smith, the extra-point specialist who has worked mostly with the defensive unit.

Still another sophomore, Al Dorow of Imlay City, also is in the running for the ball-handling post.

Will History Repeat Itself At Michigan?

Look Wha' Happened In 1946

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11 (P)—History, if she really can repeat, could be about to put the skids under Michigan, whose top national football rating was sheared off Saturday, 21-7, by a superb Army team.

With the situation fairly reeking with familiarity, the Wolverines set to work today to prepare for their conference debut Saturday against Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

The props are all the same as they were in 1946, when Michigan played its collective heart out in this same Michigan stadium, only to lose 20-13 to the Cadets from West Point.

Athletic Director Fritz Crisler, who piloted the 1946 club, still blames himself for "pointing" his squad so strongly at the mighty Cadet team led by Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard.

He figures what followed was a direct result of the tremendous effort put forth that day.

One week later, Michigan was tied 16-16 by a poorly-rated Northwestern club and then dropped a 13-9 decision to Illinois.

Today, Michigan is readying for another contest with a questionable Northwestern club. Rose Bowl titlists, the Wildcats, have already been defeated by Pitt and Minnesota. The week after, Michigan faces one of the toughest-appearing Gopher squads in years.

It is only the coaching of Benjie Oosterbaan and the morale of the squad itself that can forestall a historical repetition.

Grid Grist

Chicago, Oct. 11 (P)—Midwestern football camp notes:

Northwestern—Quarterback Dick Flowers and end Don Stoner were promoted to first string assignments in shakeup of the starting lineup for Michigan. Flowers replaced Don Burson and Stoner replaced Don Burson and Stoner replaced Don Burson.

Michigan—Passer Chuck Ortman, injured at the outset of the Army game, returned to practice. Trainer Jim Hunt reported the Wolverines should be in good shape for Northwestern.

Minnesota—Billy Bye and Ralph McAllister, two casualties, were in uniform but worked out lightly. Coach Bernie Bierman indicated there would be few if any changes in his starting lineup for Ohio State.

Ohio State—Coach Wesley Fessler shuffled the defensive lineup and reported his star sophomore, Vic Janowicz, will not be able to play Saturday. Regulars Dick Schmittner and Capt. Jack Wilson are on the doubtful list.

Illinois—Eli Poppa, promising Sophomore Linebacker from Canton, O., suffered a broken left leg in scrimmages and will be out for the season.

Wisconsin—Drilling on pass defense, the Badgers hope to be at top strength for Navy Saturday.

SPARTAN WALKER

Guelph, Canada, Oct. 11 (P)—Adolph Weinheker, a Michigan State College student, Monday won the 10-mile walk at the Guelph Road races. He covered the distance in 1:21:38 hours. Paul Chernobay of Linden, N. J., was second, and Eugene Chichura, also of Linden, third.

Shotton Gets Vote Of Confidence From Boss Branch Rickey

New York, Oct. 11 (P)—Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers has received a vote of confidence from his boss and lifelong friend, Branch Rickey.

Shotton, who led the Dodgers to the National league pennant in a stirring drive, hasn't signed a contract for 1950 but that's not odd.

Old Barney has been working for Rickey for 33 years and never operated with a contract until National league rules forced him to sign one.

Rickey gave Burt a vote of confidence during an informal press meeting yesterday.

"I consider Shotton a sound manager, just as Casey Stengel and Leo Durocher are sound managers," the voice of Brooklyn said. "I will always go along with a sound manager in his front guess."

Meanwhile, Stengel who piloted the New York Yankees to victory over the Dodgers in the world series, contradicted reports that he would not return because of ill health.

"Nothing to it," said Stengel. "Why, I'm so healthy that I'm the only guy on the club who hasn't had a doctor all year."

Casey is operating under a two year contract that calls for $40,000 per season.

U. P. Golden Gloves Plans Are Discussed

Preliminary plans for Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournaments in the Upper Peninsula and in Wisconsin were discussed at a meeting of sectional tournament representatives in Milwaukee yesterday. The meeting, called by the Milwaukee Journal, was held at the Wisconsin Hotel.

The Upper Peninsula tournament, held annually at Escanaba, was represented by Ken Gunderman, of the Escanaba Daily Press, which sponsors the tournament jointly with the Escanaba Lions club.

Macklin, Father Of Bigtime Football At Michigan State, Dies

Philadelphia, Oct. 11 (P)—John Farrell Macklin, who in five years of coaching built up one of the best records in the football record books, died at his home in the Philadelphia suburbs yesterday. He was 65.

Macklin was the founding father of big time football at Michigan State College, newly elected member of the Big Ten. The school named its stadium Macklin Field in his honor.

Macklin coached Michigan State—then Michigan Agricultural College—from 1911 through 1915 and lost only three games. He piloted the first Spartan team to defeat a University of Michigan eleven.

That red letter day was in 1913 when Michigan State upset a team coached by the great Fielding (Hurry Up) Yost by a 12 to 7 score.

Michigan came back to win in 1914 on a 60-yard dropkick, 3-0. But Macklin wound up his collegiate coaching career in 1915 with a 24-0 tounding of Michigan.

After that, Macklin quit, "while still ahead."

"RATING DEATH"

Instead of starving his prisoners to death, Attila, the Hun, sometimes known as "The Scourge of God," made them eat themselves to death. Liquids and coarse foods were forced down the victims' throats until they choked. Attila lived in 425 A. D.

Detroit Fighter Near Death After Ninth Round Knockout

Detroit, Oct. 11 (P)—Talmadge Bussey, 26-year-old Detroit lightweight, lay near death today in the hospital where he was rushed after being knocked out in the ninth round of a ring battle last night.

Surgeons at St. Mary's hospital performed a delicate operation to remove a blood clot from his brain.

Several hours later hospital attendants reported the fighter's condition "slightly improved but still critical."

Bussey and Luther Rawlings of Chicago fought in the feature attraction at the Arcadia roller rink. It was scheduled for 10 rounds.

A hard left to the jaw knocked the Detroit Negro unconscious in the eighth round. The bell rang before the referee had finished counting him out, and his seconds revived him to start the ninth round.

But with Bussey ready to collapse, Referee Herman Spinelli stopped the fight after only a blow or two had been struck in the ninth. Rawlings was awarded a

The Milwaukee tournament dates in 1950 are Jan. 20-24-27, Feb. 1-3. Upper Peninsula winners in both novice and open classes will enter the Milwaukee tournament on the semifinal night, February 1. The finals will be held in the new Milwaukee Arena, which will seat 13,000 persons, if that structure is completed in time.

The Upper Peninsula tournament dates have tentatively been set for January 23-24, which is a week earlier than last year on the corresponding date calendar. The Tournament of Champions in Chicago will be held Feb. 27-28 and March 1. Winners in the open division at Milwaukee will compete in the Chicago tournament.

Negotiations are under way to provide insurance coverage for all boxers competing in the Golden Gloves tournaments in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan in 1950. Previously this coverage was restricted to the Milwaukee tournament.

Luckless Lions Face Los Angeles Again

Detroit, Oct. 11 (P)—Coach Bo McMillin is determined to turn his Detroit Lions' from their pattern of "almost upsets" to a real one when the Detroiters meet Los Angeles Sunday in a National Football League game.

To do it, the Lions would have to conquer an unbeaten team, but McMillin believes this is the time his squad can manage—despite a long string of injuries.

"Our players will be up for this game, make no mistake about that," the coach said today.

The Lions nearly turned the trick three weeks ago, in an earlier meeting with the Rams. But they finally were edged, 27-24.

And they came close again Saturday, before being turned back by the Pittsburgh Steelers, 14-7.

The Detroiters also have bowed to the unbeaten Philadelphia Eagles, 22-14.

The Lions will be badly handicapped in the Briggs Stadium battle Sunday with the Rams. Eight members of the 52-man squad are banged up with injuries.

technical knockout, and Bussey fell unconscious to the mat. A physician who worked over him in the ring for ten minutes failed to revive the fighter.

Then he was hurried to the hospital, where Dr. John Webster operated immediately after taking x-rays.

Bussey went into the ring weighing 136 1/2 pounds to Rawlings' 135.

A native of Camden, Ala., Bussey fought professionally for the first time in 1945, and since then has made some 50 ring appearances.

His brother, Ted, fights in the welterweight division.

The same fight card that featured the Bussey-Rawlings bout marked the professional debut of Chuck Davey, former Michigan State College welterweight who won four national collegiate boxing championships.

Davey got his pro career off to a good start by knocking out Mike Martinez of Detroit after a minute and 32 seconds of the second round.

Delta Potato Show Planned

Schedule Program
Here Oct. 27

A committee of Delta county potato growers will meet at the court house in Escanaba at 8:30 p. m. Thursday to make final plans for the 1949 Delta county potato show, to be held in Escanaba Oct. 27.

Now in its ninth annual year, the Escanaba Potato Booster contest award money to the winners in the tablestock, certified, and 4-H Club divisions of the contest. Ernest Wheeler, East Lansing, Michigan State College potato specialist, will judge the Delta county show.

Plans are also being made for an afternoon meeting to which the growers and the public will be invited. An effort will be made to have Wheeler present an illustrated talk on his experiences in Japan where he was engaged for one year in potato production work for the U. S. Military government.

The potato crop in general this year in Delta county is below the bumper yields of 1948, according to J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent. The crop is high in quality, but no records, such as the state championship, are anticipated.

Wells Teachers Elect Officers

Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Wells Teachers' club at the Soo Hill school last evening.

Paul Vardigan was elected president to succeed Mrs. Edith Rosenquist; Mrs. Luther Krantz, secretary, to succeed Ruth Ford; and Mrs. John Cass was reelected treasurer.

The MEA regional conference at Marquette, teachers retirement and group insurance were discussed. Lunch was served by Agnes Gleich and Ruth Rouse.

Operator Burned At City Gas Plant

Bill Sheedio, city gas plant operator, was burned about the face and arms Monday evening in an accident at the gas plant. He was taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment but his condition is not regarded as serious.

Sheedio was tightening a clinker door when it blew open just as the furnace was making gas. The flames blew across Sheedio's face and arms.
